EUROPEAN MEDICAL STUDENTS’ ASSOCIATION

AUTUMN ASSEMBLY

2ND - 7TH SEPTEMBER 2017

BUDAPEST SEMMELWEIS UNIVERSITY
HEALTH.
EUROPE.
TOGETHER.
DEAR FRIENDS,

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the 27th EMSA Autumn Assembly. For many months now, the Organising Committee of EMSA Budapest has shown great dedication and has done a fantastic job in preparing this assembly for us. I hope that you are looking forward to this truly European meeting as much as I am. This assembly is your assembly! I invite all of you to make this event come to life by engaging in the exciting working sessions of the EMSA pillars, in its interactive workshops, soft skill trainings and passionate plenary debates.

Join our discussions on important issues on the European agenda, including Antimicrobial Resistance, the modernisation of our curricula, ultrasonography, European tobacco politics, the European year of cultural heritage, and more. We will also elect a new EMSA European Board and Executive Board. There will also be a selected number of motions to revise the rules of our association. Seize the opportunity to get to know and make friends with delegates and guests from all across Europe, to find partners for your ideas, projects and exchanges. Do not miss out on getting to know the important work of our board members, and consider to step up to the European level yourself! It is only through all of our engagement that we can make our voices heart, lead by example and realise our vision of a healthy and solidary Europe.

I wish you all safe travels to Budapest, and see you soon!

Stefan
EMSA President 2016-2017
DEAR EMSA FAMILY,

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the 27th EMSA Autumn Assembly, Budapest. I would like to start by giving my thanks to the Organizing Committee of EMSA Budapest for their tireless efforts to make this event possible. After months of dedicated preparation, a great assembly awaits us!

The theme of this year’s assembly is Antimicrobial Resistance, which is an alarmingly increasing subject that requires the inter collaboration of diverse sectors in order to be tackled. The program of the assembly includes a symposium, intricate pillar sessions prepared by pillar directors and many other activities in order to provide a platform to discuss this subject as future doctors.

There will be fruitful discussions at the plenaries in which policy statements of diverse subjects such as the modernisation of our curricula, ultrasonography, European tobacco politics, the European cultural heritage and more will be voted upon. Furthermore, motions to improve our association will be discussed and elections of EMSA Executive Board, Officials Board and Supervisory Council for the term 2017-2018 will take place.

In the projects fair and twinning market, FMOs will have the opportunity to explore the projects taking place across Europe and to make future partnerships for their twinning projects. Workshops on subjects such as interprofessional collaboration, poster case presentation, public relations and more will be taking place for all participants to benefit from. Use this opportunity to make the most of your assembly experience and return home with newly acquired knowledge, partnerships and friendships!

See you at Budapest!

Tugce Cetin
EMSA Vice President of Capacity 2016-2017
MESSAGE FROM THE OC PRESIDENT

DEAR EUROPEAN FRIENDS,

it is my utmost pleasure to welcome you as a participant at the 27th EMSA Autumn Assembly. My name is Orsolya Süli, president of the Organizing Committee.

The dedicated and enthusiastic Organizing Committee have been working tirelessly for a year now to provide the best possible EMSA General Assembly for you. We would like to ensure that you have a safe environment, where you can share your ideas, grow, make valuable friendships and help Europe to move forward for a better future.

Antimicrobial Resistance is an extremely important and relevant topic in the European agenda that needs to gain more attention. We as future healthcare professionals must educate ourselves and take action in preventing the threatening possible outcome of irresponsible antibiotic usage. Therefore, I ask you all to be present, learn and together make the change that we need to live in a safe future.

Budapest is a rapidly developing city with young vibes and historical buildings. It is vibrant, fun and sophisticated at the same time and it can show you something new every time, even if it is your first time or if you have been living here for a lifetime.

The Organizing Committee is ready to help you in anything we can - so please approach us anytime! We wish you all a successful and amazing Assembly, one which will bring back sweet memories years from now.

May the blue spirit be with you and see you soon in Budapest,

Orsolya (Orsi) Süli
OC President
THE TALE OF THE SHEEP

It all started on a sunny September day in the Southern part of Kosovo, during the field trip of Autumn Assembly 2016. After visiting a lovely town in the afternoon, half the participants headed back to Prishtina and the rest - about 40 people - started the journey to the mountains where we were to camp and hike in the morning to the beautiful Brod.

Within a few hours we arrived to our camping spot and even though it was already dark, we could still see the wonderful environment. We were surrounded by tall mountains, with a river running right next to our campsite and the night sky full of bright stars. But to keep it realistic for those who could not attend: it was very, very cold, we did not have any sleeping bags, only blankets, disaster-relief style tents that had no flooring, we were all hungry and we did not have any firewood with which we could cook some dinner (luckily OC solved this problem right away :)).

At this point I accidentally used the wrong exit of our tent. It was dark and I have very bad locating skills so I quite lost my way, heading across a field instead of going towards the other tents as I originally intended. This is when my foot kicked into something on the ground. It was a skeleton. I like to think of myself as an adventurous person but at that point I freaked out a little and run back to the other direction. I told some people about my discovery and we went back together to investigate.

It soon turned out that it was a sheep skeleton. We made up stories about the sheep, how it was the EMSA sheep that will soon rise above and rule the continent. As more and more people gathered around it and at one point we ended up holding each other’s hand in a circle around the sheep chanting “EMSA, EMSA”. The mountains echoed our voices and in that moment it really felt like a spiritual experience.

On the train back to Budapest from Kosovo our delegation decided that we would run to host the next AA. We always had the sheep-story in mind during the application process and ever since, because it reminds us that this association is a special place with wonderful people who would even chant around a sheep skeleton with you in the mountains in the middle of the night.

EUROPEAN INTEGRATION AND CULTURE

A year of cultural heritage-why do we need it?
Cultural heritage plays an important role in the history of Europe. Cultural diversity creates a rich and varied world, which increases the range of choices and nurtures human capacities and values, and therefore is a mainspring for sustainable development for communities, peoples and nations. In April 2017, The European Parliament voted on making 2018 the European Year of Cultural Heritage. For more about this topic, meet us in Budapest!

Wanderlust-vaccination makes it better
This session will cover the importance of vaccination while traveling and how we can make sure to be safe during out wanderings or even moving permanently to a new country.

MEDICAL ETHICS AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Prescribing antimicrobials ethically
Antimicrobial medication becomes less and less effective, as resistant strains emerge. The overuse of antibiotics has become a major public health concern. In light of this situation, doctors need to take more factors into account when treating infections. This will be the topic of our first session.

Vaccination: should it be compulsory?
Recently, the anti-vaccination movement has gained supporters and influence in America and Europe. As a consequence, diseases that had been eradicated thanks to vaccination programs in the developed world are re-emerging. What can healthcare professionals do to avert the consequences of this dangerous trend?
PILLAR SESSIONS DESCRIPTIONS

EUROPEAN HEALTH POLICY

Efficient health care systems in Europe: how to go from health to health care
What is health and how can health be assessed effectively? How to contribute to a populations' health. Within society many aspects influence a populations' health; health care only constitutes one of the many means. During this sessions we will take a look at what defines health and which different actors are at stage. We will speak governance and decision making processes within the European Commission and have a European Commission simulation game.

Evidence based policy writing: from research to politic, to impact
What is policy and what are necessary demands for quality policy writing? How to go from scientific results to effective policy? During this sessions we will have a small introduction onto the bases of policy writing and create a baseline for policies that could contribute to the pillar. After that we will discuss how to create a strategy for existing policies and how to measure their impact.

PUBLIC HEALTH

Do you imagine living in a world where an ear infection might be fatal because of no suitable antibiotics? This scenario can happen during our lifetime. In the first Pillar Session we will look closer at how AMR evolved and we will try to come up with solutions for the future. In the second Session we will discuss the role of the EU and find out its plans regarding AMR. We will also talk about the EU approach to vaccinations and the way they can reduce antimicrobial resistance.

MEDICAL EDUCATION
PILLAR UPDATES

European Integration and Culture
Besides the preparations for Autumn Assembly, the EIC Pillar is currently conducting the Twinning Projects Survey which will serve the achievement of three main objectives:

1. To make Twinning Projects easier to organize by identifying challenges and problems that our members face in this field
2. To help activate FMOs who are not yet part of Twinning Projects
3. To create an updated database of the persons in charge of these projects in each FMO and therefore to make communication between them easier and more efficient

European Health Policy
A general pillar booklet is being created: it will outline the focus areas of the pillar, describe the pillars importance, its policies and suggest subjects for future policy writing. This booklet will be shared before the pillar sessions so that attendants can get a general insight. The Autumn Assembly sessions are being prepared as well and will focus on the general pillar outlines. Furthermore a policy-strategy booklet is being drafted this will be released after the Autumn Assembly.

Medical Ethics and Human Rights
The Pillar sessions for the upcoming Autumn Assembly are being prepared. The policy statement on vaccination will be proposed for adoption at the AA. As well as this, we are in search of an FMO that would lead a new version of the Migrant and Refugee Rights JEP.

Public Health
The EMSA Public Health Team has recently been working on preparing awesome Autumn Assembly Pillar Sessions for public health enthusiasts. You can find more info about them in the Pillar Sessions Descriptions section. We have also written a policy on European Tobacco Politics which will be up for adoption during this Assembly. As this term comes to an end soon, I would like to thank all people that contributed to the Pillar and I encourage all enthusiasts to join EMSA Public Health!

What to do during plenary sessions

During the General Assembly a lot of time is dedicated to the plenary sessions, where we discuss and and vote on all issues especially statutory issues concerning EMSA. We want you to participate during the plenary sessions instead of just being there and witnessing them. In order to do so it will be helpful to know the following information:

1. Speaker’s List
During the entire session the moderator will have a speaker’s list to prevent disorganised, chaotic discussions. If you would like to voice an opinion you need to hold up your sign to indicate to the moderator that you would like to be put on the list. Once it is your turn the moderator will call on you and give you the opportunity to speak uninterrupted.

2. Plenary Documents
In preparation of the plenary sessions the EMSA European Board has already sent all the documents that will be voted on to the EMSA-Europe server and the documents are also saved to the EMSA google drive. We will vote on these documents, so you should read them, especially if you carry voting rights during the GA. There will be a couple of scheduled moments in the agenda where there will be a chance for people from the same country “Country Time” to sit together and discuss the documents together. If you have any questions regarding the documents you can send an email to the EEB or the person who sent the document.
Documents you can expect:
Candidatures for the EB 2017-2018
Candidatures for the Officials Board 2017-2018
Candidatures for the hosts of EMSA European Meetings 2018
Motions to change the Internal Rules or EMSA statutes
Policy Statements for adoption
External Meeting Reports of EEB
Annual Reports of the EEB
Memorandum of Understandings/Contracts between EMSA and other organisations.
LC/NC GA Survival Guide
GA Manual for EMSA Members
Visu

3. Voting
When voting on documents, we use the motion flow. You can find this motion flow at the end of this chapter.

Tabling a motion
When a motion is being proposed by someone, e.g. the EEB wants to make a change in the internal rules, the proposer (in this case the EEB) tables a motion. This means they fill in a motion form and give it to the chair of the GA.

Is there a seconder?
The chair will ask for a seconder. A seconder is someone who agrees with the motion proposed and wants to support it. A seconder needs to have voting rights. The proposer can also ask anyone with a voting right to second the motion before the motion gets tabled, in which case the chair doesn’t need to ask for a seconder. If nobody wants to second the motion, the motion fails and the process on voting on the motion ends.
Are there amendments?
If there is a seconder the chair asks for amendments. Amendments are changes to the motion. This can be for example a change of the wordings or sentence. If the proposer of the motion and the seconder agree with the amendment, the amendment is included in the original motion. If the proposer of the motion doesn’t agree with the amendment, this leads to a vote on the amendment. In case the amendment is accepted by a simple majority, the amendment is incorporated into the original motion. If the GA doesn’t accept the amendment, the amendment is rejected and we continue without the amendment, with the original motion.

Is there a direct negative?
When there aren’t any other amendments, the chair will ask for a direct negative. If you don’t agree with the motion, you say you have a direct negative - this leads to a vote on the motion. This means you can say that you have a direct negative when you want to make sure that there is a vote on the motion. When you have a direct negative you may - but don’t have to - explain the reason why. If there is no direct negative the motion passes nemo contra.

An alternative motion:
It might be that you have another motion on the same topic of the original motion. In that case you say you have a direct negative and explain that you have an alternative motion. You get some time to explain your motion and people can ask questions. After that we will continue with the voting. You can vote for the original motion, the alternative motion, against both or abstain. A motion passes if it reaches a simple majority.
ELECTIONS

There will be elections at AA’17 for following positions and events; This means, EMSA GA will elect the following positions and events:

EMSA Executive Board 2017/2018
- President
- Vice-President for Internal Affairs
- Vice-President for Capacity
- Secretary General

EMSA Officials Board 2017/2018
- Medical Education Director
- Medical Ethics and Human Rights Director
- Medical Science Director
- Public Health Director
- European Integration and Culture Director
- European Health Policy Director
- European Institutions Liaison Officer
- Resource Development Officer
- Training & Events Officer

EMSA European Meetings 2018 Hosts
- EMSA Spring Assembly 2018

Each faculty will have one vote and either one of the local coordinators, or the proxy carrier for the faculty will vote for candidatures during the 4th plenary.
TRAININGS

"Soft skills get little respect, but it will make or break your career."

Peggy Klaus

WHY? They say people skills are hard to measure and it might be true. Just think about it! How much did you learn about them during your formal education? But nowadays it is not enough to be good at what you do, you also need to differentiate from others to reach your goals. The good news are that your soft skills can be trained, and that there is always place for improvement.

HOW? Trainers design their trainings based on the needs of the 4 types of learners (from David Kolb's theory), so not only theoretical information for theoretical learners, but also activities for observers and activists, as well as explanations for pragmatists. In a safe environment, facilitated by a trainer, you can learn the WHY, HOW and WHAT of a topic, which knowledge you can apply later to your real life experience.

WHAT? The topics for AA'17 trainings were selected according to participants' needs expressed in the registration form, in a way to meet the expectations of both, newbies and experienced members.

Here come the descriptions of each session. Please note that spots to each training are limited!

Conflict Management
(Trainers: Philippa Lantwin & Evrim Hotamis)

Conflicts: Whether in everyday life, student organizations, at university or in hospital - everyone encounters them. And all of us can instantly remember this one situation they handled badly.

Now have you ever encountered this kind of person, that seemed to get it all right? Miraculously finding the right path between getting everything that needed to be said out there AND still respecting the other?

Well, it's not just magic at work! We will show you some techniques everyone can apply to get you there!

Please note: To get more out if this, you can "bring your problem" - think of the last situation you would have needed better handling for!
Breaking Bad News
(Trainers: Panos Vryniotis & Christina Kefalidi)

Breaking bad news is one of the most difficult tasks a physician has to do. The way it is done may change the nature of the relationship permanently - strengthening it, undermining it or even damaging it irreparably. Have you ever thought about breaking bad news to a patient? Through this training, we are going to discuss about empathy and its significance in the doctor - patient collaboration. You will learn about the stages of grief, and get useful guidelines on how to approach a patient and deliver bad news empathically.

Hands on: Project Design
(Trainers: Leu Huang & Iza Korpar)

Design is about building the right thing, not just making things pretty. Fresh from Silicon Valley and established at Stanford University you will get to experience „Design Thinking“ as an approach to project management. Discover your creative confidence and how it supports you in organising projects and events as well as your everyday life. Curious? We are looking forward to see you at our training! Be quick since we only have spots for 20 people ;)

„...with Design Thinking you can see two dots, that don’t make any sense, but somehow in your head you connect them in a new and different way.“
- Joe Gebbia: Airbnb
Creativity
(Trainers: Batuhan Öçbe & Ege Efe)

Creativity is giving the world something it didn't know it was missing. Do you have what it takes to do so? In our century, it's very easy to get lost in studying/working and feeling that you are never creative anymore. Don't worry if you share the symptoms. We might have some solutions for you. Join us for the special remastered edition of our first delivered training together from TCE 2016!

Motivation and Empowerment
(Trainers: Juliett Mattijsen & Nikola Docnchev)

Motivation is the key to success. If you want to do what you have to do as an individual or as a group, you are bound to succeed. Motivation and empowerment are tightly bound. In this training we will discuss how to empower a team, how to motivate a group of people and how to keep yourself and others motivated.

In case you have any training related questions, please address them to teo@emsa-europe.eu.
“Interprofessional Collaboration, a modern healthcare students’ approach”
Teuta Azizi (EMSA EIL0) and Suvi Sivula (EPSA)

Interprofessional collaboration (IPC) is defined by the WHO as multiple health workers from different professional backgrounds working together. It is a key element of healthcare and seems to get more important in the future of healthcare. Interprofessional education (IPE), as a result, is getting more attention in healthcare students’ education. When incorporated in the early stages of academic training, it allows students to acquire knowledge, skills and attitudes that will enable them to work as part of a multidisciplinary team. But how can we make the most of the teams, and how can we learn to do it? Come and find it out with us!

How to make a poster case presentation
Cristina Fogas

Why? Do you want to enhance your knowledge on poster case presentations? Do you want to get your abstract accepted? If so, please join the workshop on poster case presentations. This will have two parts: First part: following abstract submission, participants will present their case and be evaluated by the jury Second part: discussion on essential information needed when creating and presenting your poster as well as on some of the topics previously presented

Public Relations Crash Course
Tugce Cetin and Nick Xifaras

No matter how much great work you’re doing, it’s no good if people don’t hear about it! In this workshop we will show you Public Relations from A to Z. The topics we will cover range from basic to advanced and everything in between: social media posts, graphics tools, PR in organizations, promotion planning, and more. You have no experience in PR but it sounds really exciting? This is the workshop for you. You are experienced and want something to intrigue you? There is plenty for you too.
Policy Writing
Juliette Mattijsen

Why is advocacy important? How should one write policies? And how to implement them? During this workshop we will discuss different structures of policy writing. A general outline for papers will be explained. Furthermore we will speak of how to maintain a proper quality of policies within organisations. And we will discuss which partners to include and how to involve them in our stands. If there is time, we will sketch our own policies in groups.

EMSA Events and How to organize them
Alma Laszlo and Jan Skrzypczak

Have you ever thought about organising an international EMSA event? Or what can you do to turn a good event into a great one? Did it always seem like an impossible task? Fear not, that isn’t the case. This session will guide you thru the process of organizing an unforgettable experience for your participants in an interactive way, learning not only from OC’s and TEO’s experience, but also from each other. Join us, especially (but not only) if you are considering a host candidature. EMSA needs future great events!
TWINNING MARKET

What is a Twinning?
It is a project of students’ exchange between two FMOs, usually lasting around one week, that has an educational, social and cultural program.

What is a Twinning Project Market?
It is a place of meeting during the General Assembly where all FMOs present themselves to each other, trying to find the perfect partner to have an exchange project together.
If your FMO has had such projects before, show them off! Bring material, pictures, videos or anything that tells how good your project was.
If you haven’t had any Twinning Projects before, no worries, you can make a presentation of your University, your town and your culture to invite fellow EMSA members to join you.

For any questions regarding the TPM, don’t hesitate to contact us under integration@emsa-europe.eu!

PROJECT FAIR

This year the AA will have a special fair to promote your project! Take this opportunity to share some of the amazing work you are doing in your FMO. Inspire others with your most creative initiatives. Or get new ideas as you walk through the fair and see the projects other FMOs started. Be prepared to be amazed!

How to prepare?
You will get a table to present all your materials. Here are some tips on how to present your project well:
- Bring your project to the AA! Brochures, stickers, goodies, anything goes!
- Be creative, be memorable!
- YOU are the best presentation your project could ever have. Share your enthusiasm! :) There will be a special prize for the best presented project.

For any questions regarding the Project Fair, don’t hesitate to contact vpi.pr.assistant@emsa-europe.eu and vpi.projects.assistant@emsa-europe.eu!
The European Village Party is THE typical EMSA party: everybody brings national food and drinks and spends the night discovering all the other nations’ delicacies. It is organised in every official EMSA meeting - this year it will be happening on 4th of September night.

How to prepare?
At the European Village Party a table will be provided for every delegation. You can serve your national foods and drinks and also decorate your table with national symbols (flags, stamps etc.). Present your country with pride and don’t forget to wear your country’s colours. And bring some nice pamphlets and photos too, food and drinks love company! Also, to make it even better this year and to give you the opportunity to represent your country even better, bring a song and some traditional dance moves that you can show at the beginning, in our European dance-a-thon.

Be prepared for a memorable night! And don’t forget, be careful with the alcohol ; ) You are at a meeting of medical students, make a good example! Enjoy!
Is motivation something innate that we are born with or something that can be created and strengthened by reinforcers external to the learning task? There is no need to mention the importance of motivation in medicine and the healthcare field where people work with incredible dedication, spend hours in labs, libraries, hospitals to save lives, to invent a new cure or prevent diseases.

Obviously the creation of social platforms and technological innovations enable us to get inspiration from all over the world, which could easily be counted as a source of external motivation. Each story, whether it has a connection to our life or not can touch our soul, can shake our heart and can leave an impression in our memory. If you have any story that you dream of telling, spreading to your friends from all over Europe - now stage is yours! The Autumn Assembly 2017 will have one MEDxEMSA session for all enthusiastic EMSAi to share their ideas. Remember, sharing is caring! Please don’t hesitate for a second, come join us in Budapest!

Want to know more about this special session and how to apply? Contact the VPE at vpe@emsa-europe.eu!
COUNTRY PRESENTATIONS

The Country Presentation is an opportunity for countries to show their projects for the past year. Feel inspired as you watch the projects that have been carried out in EMSA all over Europe!

How to prepare?
The National Coordinators are responsible for the country presentations, but anyone may contribute to it! Each country will create a poster of their countries’ activities for the past year and the posters will be on display throughout the whole Autumn Assembly. Make your posters more interesting with photos! This is your chance to make your country shine! For any questions regarding the Country Presentations, do not hesitate to contact secretary@emsa-europe.eu!

NC SESSIONS

The EMSA National Coordinators will meet during the NC sessions. These sessions give National Coordinators the chance to discuss problems they are facing in their country, make inputs on some decisions to be taken by the EMSA European Board and to exchange ideas. This comprises of working groups, discussions and brainstorming sessions, all according to the needs of the National Coordinators. The exact agenda of the NC sessions will be decided upon during the preparatory online meetings of the National Coordinators.
